

Khalid Al-Mady

Chief of Internal Audit Officer

Khalid Almadi is the Chief of Internal Audit Officer at Saudi Arabian Military Industries (SAMI). He is responsible for enabling the company to achieve its strategic goals while maintaining a well-structured approach to business, in accordance with international aerospace and defense standards and best practices, ensuring integrity, professionalism, and ethical conduct. Khalid spent most of his career in the aerospace and defense industry, where his last position was the Vice President of Quality, Governance and Internal Audit at Advanced Electronics Company (AEC).